Antarctica's Ross Sea Region

Be sure to stay close to your verandah as you enter the Ross Sea. The pristine, iceberg-rich ocean is popular among orcas, seals, penguins and whales.

This rugged and remarkable body of water is surrounded by sky-scraping mountains and carved by glacial ice tongues, vast ice shelves and drifting sea ice.

Tag 7

Your Captain and Discovery Leader will seek out the safest opportunities for you to explore the area.

Over the next few days on Ross Island, at the base of Mount Erebus, you'll have the opportunity to walk in the footsteps of legendary explorers like Ernest Shackleton and Robert Falcon Scott.

Scenic Discovery:

Antarctica's Ross Sea Region

Tag 8

Weather and ice conditions permitting, we will arrive at Beaufort Island, a remote and rugged volcanic outpost rising dramatically from the icy waters of the Ross Sea. Located on the edge of the Ross Ice Shelf, this isolated sanctuary is home to a thriving Adélie penguin colony, as well as skuas and other seabirds. Its towering cliffs and icy shores create a breathtaking landscape, offering a rare glimpse into Antarctica's untouched wilderness.

Tag 9

Few sights in Antarctica are as dramatic as Mount Erebus, the southernmost active volcano on Earth. Sit down with your expert polar Discovery Team in the state-of-the-art theatre to learn why Sir James Clark Ross and Sir Ernest Shackleton came here on their polar expeditions, and how they built their huts.

Throughout the day, keep an eye out for Adélie penguins. Cape Bird is home to one of the region's largest colonies, where these charming birds nest along its rugged, rocky shores.

Further south, Cape Royds blends history and wildlife. It's home to Shackleton's well-preserved 1908 Nimrod expedition hut.

Scenic Discovery: Another exciting opportunity to soar over the breathtaking landscape with flightseeing on one of the two on board helicopters^.

This is home to one of the most important historical sites on the continent, Robert Falcon Scott's Terra Nova Hut, the base for his legendary 1911–1913 expedition to the South Pole.

Tag 10

You will land via Zodiac directly at Cape Evans, where you will have the rare opportunity to walk through Scott's Hut, preserved much as it was over a century ago. This is one of Antarctica's most moving and well-preserved monuments to human endurance and ambition.

A stark, otherworldly landscape, the Dry Valleys are one of the driest places on Earth. The only way to glimpse this dramatic landscape is by adding an optional excursion on one of Scenic Eclipse II's helicopters^ – weather permitting, your pilot may even land on this end-of-the-Earth landscape.

Or explore this fascinating landscape on the fleet of Zodiacs, kayaks, stand-up paddleboards~, guided and self-paced hikes.

Antarctica's Ross Sea Region

Today, we may visit one of Antarctica's most poignant historical sites, Inexpressible Island, where six men from Robert Falcon Scott's Terra Nova Expedition (1910–1913) spent an unthinkable winter, stranded with almost no supplies.

Your Discovery Team historians will bring their story to life, recounting tales of sheer resilience and determination that remain among the most incredible feats in polar history.

Tag 13

Beyond its historical significance, Inexpressible Island is also a haven for wildlife. Adélie penguins thrive here, and the surrounding waters are often frequented by Weddell and crabeater seals. If conditions allow, we may explore the dramatic coastline by Zodiac.

Back on board, consider unwinding at the Senses Spa®, indulging in a soothing treatment to reflect on the unforgettable experiences of the past days.

Shaped by powerful geological forces, this remote peninsula marks the site where Antarctica's tectonic plates meet, creating a unique and rugged terrain.

Tag 15

This region has long fascinated scientists and explorers alike. The peninsula is a key site for studying ancient lava flows, providing insight into Antarctica's volcanic past. Humpbacks, fin and minke whales may put on a show while we are nearby, breaching, blowing, and slapping their tails. Crabeater, Weddell Ross Sea Seals and leopard seals loll about, sunbaking between swims. Join a Discovery Excursion or just take in the view from the Observation Deck or your private verandah.
